BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY

Just what is this meritorious promotion which has been extended to Miss Julia Connor, Chief of the General Files Section? When a G.I. Joe receives one, it is for service "Over and beyond the line of duty." Most anyone can perform the regular requirements of a job, but the person who goes a step further is the one who really counts.

While the increase in pay is appreciated, it in no way compares to the high esteem in which Miss Connor is held by her fellow employees, or to the distinction of being the only F. C. A. employee to receive a meritorious promotion.

Maybe you have wondered why Miss Connor is so often not at her desk in her private glass enclosed office. She is digging in the files, though the way she maintains that rosy and white appearance, clear down to her pink enameled finger nails, deserves a citation in itself.

"I shouldn't have too much credit," she explained. "The people in General Files before me were so busy handling the great volume of work they didn't have time to see short cuts. It was a case of being 'Too close to the woods to see the trees.'"

Being an expert administrator from her experience prior to coming to F. C. A. gave Miss Connor foresight, and being eager to learn F. C. A.'s filing system from the ground up, she did a lot of the dirty work herself. Here are a few of the many things she has accomplished.

She has stopped the writing, classifying and filing of unnecessary transmittal letters, approximately 225,000 annually. Since only the enclosures are important, her inquiring mind asked "Why write transmittal letters?" Through her efforts the

MANY CAME - ALL SAW - SOME WON

The third annual Hobby Show sponsored by the Farm Credit Club in Kansas City attracted 593 visitors who viewed the 74 exhibits displayed by 64 exhibitors.

Competition was keen, but after all the smoke had cleared away the judges declared Carl Colvin first place winner in the Collection classification with his array of Haitian articles, which included rare types of wood, an inlaid box, old books written in Spanish, and lovely table linens handmade by native Haitian girls. First honors in Handiwork were rightfully voted to Tom Pritchard for his versatile offerings of charcoal drawings, oil paintings, and sketches. The Photographic first place was taken by Charles Ritter, now serving with the Navy in the

IT'S A DATE!!

Many plans are in the making for the Farm Credit Club's annual picnic, to be held at Fairylawn Park, Tuesday, July 3. Save the date, everybody, it's going to be lots of fun!

News From Field And Camp

LETTERS FROM OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Carl W. Bark, S K D 2C, S & H Division, USS Bering Strait, c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, California.

.....In all of my travels I have been continually in search of some one from FCA, but to no avail. The nearest I have come, is to have been in the same harbor of the island on which Charlie Ritter is stationed (Guam). One of these days I hope to catch up with Bob Beach, but gosh knows when! When I thought I was about to catch up with Joe Kudlak, he turned up in Kansas CitySuch is the life of a sailor. Let it be known that I'd appreciate hearing from any and all.

Captain Clinton O. Baltimore, The Salvation Army, 5809 Seventh Ave., Kenosha, Wisconsin. Although I am not connected directly with the Salvation Army War Service, it is grand to be a part of an organization that is serving Allied Troops on 26 battle fronts. We not only try to serve the troops in Salvation Army huts, but we have mobile canteens which can serve 2,600 men without refilling.

Not only does our organization try and supply the boys with homemade coffee and doughnuts, but we try to help them spiritually also.

I am thinking of you, and may God bless you.

Mary Kindred, S 1/c (Y), Box 45, U. S. Submarine Base, New London, Conn.

In not too long a time I will have been in the Waves a year. In some ways it seems impossible that so much time could have passed. Especially have the past 6 months sped by. I suppose that the main reason for that is I'm busy. I frequently work at nights and on week ends, and the days go by on wings. My work is more interesting each day, as I learn more about it.

A few weeks ago I went to Southbridge, Mass., to pick up a machine from the American Optical Company. It was a very pleasant trip. As a representative of the U. S. Navy, which is undoubtedly a good customer of A.O., I was really treated royally. I am learning a lot, and find the subject of Ophthalmology fascinating.

You may have heard by now that we received word that my brother was killed over Luzon January 3. We don't know many of the particulars, except that the chaplain from the base wrote my mother a very nice letter in which he described the burial services and enclosed two pictures of the services...I know that the letter from the chaplain relieved a lot of the tension at home, as it helped to know something definite.

This is really beautiful country, now that the ice and snow has finally decided to disappear. Quite a few of the people from my department live in cottages on the beach in the summer, and I am looking forward to spending some nice weekends this summer.

Say hello to every one for me.

OUR WASHINGTON REPORTER

The most exciting thing that has happened here recently was a get-together luncheon for the Washington staff. "Senor" Gib Randell was the guest speaker and brought in his souvenirs from South America to show to the folks. Among same were tiger skins, snake skins, and numerous Indian spears and arrowheads. Entertainment was provided by his young son who corrected Gib on the difference in usage of a "small game spear" and one used for spearing fish! Amusement was afforded by L. B. Mann--all unsuspecting on his part by an appropriate sign placed on his back. Among the invited guests were Sgt. R. C. Dorsey, Capt. Roy Lennartson, and Debbie Jean Miller.

LAST CALL FOR AUDITORIUM BOOKLETS

During the past few months the Contact Committee has been circulating an attractive booklet containing photographs and descriptive literature on the Municipal Auditorium.

If any employees who entered on duty after the booklet was circulated within their divisions or offices are interested in examining or obtaining a copy, they may contact Rosemary Lawes, room 2330A before June 12, 1945. They are priced at 25 cents each.

RAIN FAILS TO STOP HIKERS

Five veteran hikers started for Unity Farm on May 27 in a downpour of rain; but the skies cleared shortly after their arrival, and a warm sun with cool breezes provided a perfect day for the last hike of the season. The lucky five included Hoyt Elkins, John Kennedy, Paul Rapp, Jean Sutter, and Martha (Pat) Ross.

Before lunch the group hiked to the dairy and back, exploring the natural rock bridge and other geological formations on the way. The return route skirted Unity Lake and followed Cedar Creek to the club house and picnic grounds. Lunch consisted of five juicy steaks broiled over hickory coals, together with home fried potatoes and all the trimmings. After a long siesta, the group topped off the day with ice cream sodas at the tea room.

Watch for announcement of hike breakfast in the next Grapevine.

writing of unnecessary transmittal letters to and from F.C.A. has been practically discontinued. The time saved in writing the letters at source, classifying and filing the letters here, expense saved in postage, to say nothing of the paper salvage, is staggering.

"In the personnel files," continued Miss Connor, "there were thousands of records, and when I speak of personnel files I speak in terms of thousands, transmitted to the F.B.I. for checking finger print records, sometimes two hundred names at a time, each name cross referenced with a carbon copy. Since it would be necessary to cross these names to individual files only in case of a police record, the practice was discontinued, thus saving the time of typing the crosses. The thousands that were thrown out added much to the paper salvage."

After that, there was no stopping her, once she got the taste of blood. She found old personnel files from way back in the late 1920's and early 1930's. Field records of the services of some employee for maybe one hour or one day, which she destroyed - after the usual red tape authority - releasing thirty-two file cabinets for important files.

Payroll clerks spent hours searching in General Files for records which should have been in the Payroll Office, so Miss Connor had the files moved in to them. Simple, is it not? Now everybody is happy and the payroll clerks are saved a lot of man hours with necessary records at their finger tips.

There were 60 employees in General Files when Miss Connor came. General decrease in work throughout F.C.A. has accounted for much of the reduction to 25, though she admits she could use two more in "the Destruction Unit." Small wonder!

Destruction - Ah! That's where Miss Connor really shines. In fact so assiduously has she carried on the work of disposing of obsolete records that F.C.A. has turned over to Surplus property more than 500 file cabinets since coming to Kansas City.

Yes, these are some of the reasons why the Meritorious Salary Committee, which is appointed by the Governor of the F.C.A., found Miss Connor worthy of promotion. This committee was chosen from a democratic cross section of employees, every Division represented - low and high grades. Those serving on the committee are: Evelyn Brubaker, Dorothy M. Dyhrberg, John H. Guill, C. G. Lockwood, George E. Olsen, Dorwin Scott, Francis W. Smith, Leslie Surginer, A. W. Walker, Letus A. Wallace, Frances R. Young, Wm. L. Moore, Chairman, and Gordon E. Van Leer, Alternate Chairman.

Aside from her regular duties, Miss Connor has found time for welfare work as Chairman of the Health Committee, President of the Farm Credit Club, and a member of the F.C.A. Efficiency Rating Committee. The times she has been the instigator of groups for carrying on the war effort are too numerous to mention.

Perhaps sometime in the future Federal employees will vie with one another for meritorious promotions as the Hollywood stars compete for Oscars. Uncle Sam might then sit back with his feet on the desk for a long snooze, while the affairs of the Government were progressing "Beyond the call of duty." (HWV)

TWO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

The Board of Directors hereby submits for consideration of all Club members two proposed amendments to its constitution, which will be voted on at the next annual meeting on June 27, 1945. If these amendments are approved by the members, its bylaws will be amended accordingly.

The substance of the proposed changes is:

1. The formal election of the editor of the Club's house organ as a member of the board of directors.

2. Limitation on the number of consecutive terms which any officer or director may serve.

In proposing the election of the editor as a member of the board of directors, the board felt that it was desirable to place the editor in a position where he could be fully cognizant at all times of the wishes of the board and would also be in a position, without necessity for formal notification, to be familiar with current policies and operations. In the past the editor has almost always been a member of the board but this has occurred by accident rather than by design. The proposed amendment formalizes what has come to be a familiar practice.

In proposing the limitation of tenure on the board of directors to not more than two terms, the board has in mind (1) The advantages to be gained by revitalizing the board through the infusion of new blood; (2) The elimination of possible inequities through over-long tenure on the part of one or more directors.

The text of the proposed amended sections is as follows:

Article IV

Sec. 2. The board of directors shall be composed of the officers of the club (ex officio) and five other members elected in the manner provided in the bylaws.

Sec. 3. The officers of the club shall be a President, Vice President, Treasurer, Recording Secretary, Executive Secretary, and Club Editor, who shall

Home Service News

The following letter was received by Lowell Collins from Mrs. Mason L. Thompson, Chairman, Kansas City Blood Center, American Red Cross:

"We are sending your company a Certificate of Appreciation and we want to thank you for the cooperation and interest that you have given the Blood Donor Service.

"We know you must feel a sense of deep satisfaction in personally aiding the war effort in sending donors to the Blood Center week in and week out.

"The company's record could not have been as splendid without the aid of you and the Blood Donor Committee."

On Sunday morning, May 27, 10 FCA girls served coffee and doughnuts to enlisted men at the Service Men's Club on Pershing Road. The group included 125 sailors enroute from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The girls serving were: Pearl Ferguson, Persis Gray, Alma Dey, Lorraine Lagergren, Madeline Brockman, Mabel Schweitzer, Bernice Nilson, Florence Middelkamp, Ruth Polson, and Louise Pressgrove.

SPANISH MUSICAL

On May 23 the Spanish club "El Vespertino" entertained guests from the FCA and other organizations with an evening of music. The FCA Women's Chorus, with Mrs. Margaret Porter at the piano, sang "Amor" and "Chiapanecas"; Eula Lee Collins played two piano solos appropriate to the season; Alma Day sang "La Partida" in genuine Latin style; Helen Brecheisen and her guitar performed the well-known "Quiereme Mucho" and "Cielito Lindo"; Cecilia DiCanzio played "Amor" and a popular tango on the piano; Isabella McGinnis sang "Mi Tierra" and joined Jean Sutter in a duet, "No Te Apures," with Mrs. Jose Moreno as accompanist. The words and music for these two songs were written by the Mexican composer, Señor Saturnino Alvarado, who was a guest of the club. The songs, which were presented in public for the first time, are in the true Latin tradition and were received with enthusiastic approval by the audience. Miss McGinnis and Mrs. Sutter have made recordings of these two songs to be sent overseas. The program concluded with a half hour of community singing of well-known Spanish songs.

ADDITIONAL NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Again we have at least half of Kansas City and part of the District units with us, and things are really humming - overtime work and all! It has been good to have William L. Moore in for an official visit.

The Department of Agriculture is going to issue certificates to all employees of the Department who have contributed a gallon or more of blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank - and they will be out shortly. FCA has its share of donors, and we have been urged to continue here since it's a long, tough road ahead in the Pacific.

We are glad to welcome Edna Woods "back into the fold" after her sojourn to Martinique for State Department's Foreign Service. Mildred Peterson is leaving us on June 4 to join the staff of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

In the Collection classification Gladys Rovillo won second place with her 129 salt dips; Boots Porter was voted third for his colorful exhibit of "First Day Covers" showing United States stamps; and Frances Sayre came in fourth with her display of perfume bottles of all shapes, sizes and scents.

Irene Rowley's colorful pillow slips and luncheon cloths won for her second place in the Handiwork classification, while Lucile Jacomet took third place with her handmade baby quilt with tiny animals appliqued on squares of blue and white. Elizabeth Cawood's pink and blue wool crocheted afghan was voted fourth.

In the Photography classification Amos Russell was awarded second prize for the pictures of his two photogenic sons. Mary Freeze placed third with her photographs and Kodachrome scenes of Washington, D.C., and Kansas City. Fourth prize went to Keith Scott for his unusual landscapes and other outdoor scenes.

Thanks and appreciation are extended by the 1945 Hobby Show committee to all who helped make the show a success. (MRP)

THANKS

In part, the following memorandum from Governor Duggan was received by Julia D. Connor, president of the Farm Credit Club:

"The Farm Credit Club during the recent conference of directors again demonstrated its willingness to go out of its way to be helpful. By making available a fund for cashing the personal checks of the directors who were present it contributed in no small way to the success of the conference."

U.S.D.A. CLUB HAS AN EVENING DINNER MEETING

U.S.D.A. Club members and guests had a "barrel of fun" and also learned something about agricultural problems when they met at the Green Parrot Inn on May 22 for an evening dinner meeting.

After a slight delay 103 members and guests filed into the dining room to the rolling music of Miss Evelyn Nelson, a guest entertainer. The exuberant music, with the group joining in singing, continued until everyone was seated and ready to start on the fruit cocktail.

Following the dinner, President M. R. Hoberecht, called upon Ross J. Silkett, who was in charge of the program.

Mr. Silkett introduced Miss Nelson to the group and expressed the Club's gratitude to her by giving a "commercial" for the Russell Stover Candy Company with which she is associated. Next, Mr. Silkett turned on some more merriment when he introduced the Serenaders' Quartet. We were told that the Serenaders were members of a national organization concerned with the preservation of liberty and freedom, explained later as the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. The Serenaders sang old favorite songs as well as humorous songs.

Mrs. Louise Pressgrove, our Librarian, provided us all with many hearty laughs when she gave her masterpiece on the "Manpower Shortage." Without describing it, let us call it a classic commentary on the times.

President Hoberecht then introduced our speaker for the evening, Governor I. W. Duggan. Governor Duggan carried on the merriment but at the same time he clearly presented the achievements of the Farm Credit Administration Agencies, such as tapping the money market and designing credit to fit the farmer's need. He outlined briefly the problems that will confront farmers and the Farm Credit Administration in the future.

Following the address by Governor Duggan, President Hoberecht introduced the incoming officers of the Club: Lloyd C. Halvorson, Secretary-Treasurer; Ross J. Silkett, Vice President; and William T. Angle, President. Mr. Angle commended the retiring officers of the Club, spoke briefly of plans for the future, and closed the meeting by having us all sing the first verse of the National Anthem. As the members and guests left the dining hall, the general feeling was: "We will surely have to do this again next year."

U.S.D.A. Clubs, which exist in most large cities, are best described as professional clubs designed to aid the employees of the Department to improve their services to the public. Membership is open to all Department employees. (LCH)
